BERNHOLTZ HAD EASY CASH PLAN

But, Unfortunately for Him, It Had a Comeback and He is Spending 90 Days in Albany—Passed Bad Checks.

Francis J. Bernholtz, who resides at the corner of Main and Green streets, was arrested last Friday afternoon by Sergeant Phinney, and later arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court, where he pleaded guilty to having John J. Larkin, the down town shoe dealer, cash a bad check for him. As this was not the first time Bernholtz had been in court, and he was warned the last time what would happen, Judge Schirick sentenced him to 90 days in the pen at Albany and he was taken there Friday evening by Officer Soper.

Bernholtz had a fine little plan of raising money on checks. The way he worked Mr. Larkin was simple. He bought a pair of shoes there some time ago, and paid for them with a check for $10. The shoes cost about $5 and Bernholtz received back $5 in change. Later the check was returned marked "no funds."

Mr. Bernholtz was reminded of the fact and sent Mr. Larkin $10 in cash.

Still later he called at the store and offered Mr. Larkin a check on the Equitable Trust Company of New York city for $10 and asked if he would cash it. Mr. Larkin did so. The check was returned marked "no funds" and Mr. Larkin got busy and swore out a warrant for Bernholtz's arrest.

MISS BLACKWELL REGAINS LEAD

Gaining nearly 600 votes yesterday, Miss Hazel Blackwell again laid claim to first position in the race for queen of the Mardi Gras to be held at the latter part of this month at Kingston Point Park. Hazel Blackwell	2,838
Clara Vollmer	2,505
Emily Anderson	2,385
Anna Halstead	2,275
Susie Altamari	2,165
Julia Hendon	2,110
Mildred Krom	2,045
Helen Connelly	1,495

A LUTHERAN PICNIC.

Redeemer Ladies' Aid and Bible Society Going to Forsyth.

The annual picnic of the Ladies' Aid Society and Bible School of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will be held Thursday, August 7, at Forsyth Park. The picnic, however, will not be confined to members of the church and Bible school, but the public will be welcomed as well. The ladies of the society will have charge of preparing the lunches and serving the refreshments. It is sufficient to say that past records will not only be maintained but surpassed.

Members of the Bible school are requested to be present at the services tomorrow, at which time all information regarding the picnic will be given out by the committee in charge. A special car will be chartered to convey the scholars uptown. The scholars will meet at the church at 9:30 a. m. Games and sports will be on the program and the municipal band will be at the park on this day.

Hobart P. O. Robbed.

Early Thursday morning the post office at Hobart was visited by rogues, the safe blown and about $2,000 secured, and despite the fact that one of the occupants of the building was aroused the fellows made good their escape, and there is no clue other than that it is believed that the party, traveling in a Buick seven passenger car, passed through Stamford south bound shortly after the crime was committed.

Dropped Dead on Mountain Top.

While climbing Buck Mountain on Lake George last Wednesday the Rev. William F. Schoenfeld, pastor of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of New York city, dropped dead a few minutes after the summit had been reached. Death was due to acute indigestion. Rev. Schoenfeld was well known to Lutherans in this city. A few years ago he delivered a lecture in the Auditorium under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE IN DETROIT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2.—Damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 was caused last night when the Wadsworth Manufacturing plant, in the east end of the city was almost entirely destroyed by fire and other business houses slightly damaged. The fire is thought to have been caused by spontaneous combustion and originated in the paint shop of the Wadsworth Company. The Sibley Lumber Company suffered $100,000 loss and the Inside Lun Hotel was totally destroyed.

MANY MOURN FOR HAMMERSTEIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 2.—Messages of sorrow and condolence from all parts of the country poured in on the home of the late Oscar Hammerstein today. The noted operatic impresario died at Lenox Hill hospital last night after an extended illness, brought on by a complication of diseases.

The body will lie in state at a funeral parlor on upper Broadway at the edge of the theater district. It was stated, and hundreds are expected to pay tribute to his memory.

MAYNARD'S AUTO FOUND; 3 ARRESTED

Assistant Postmaster's Auto Stolen Friday Evening, and Found Wrecked on Hurley Road—Three boys Arrested.

George Delaney and Joseph Rothery, two young men, were arrested this morning by Sergeant Phinney, on a charge of stealing the automobile of Assistant Postmaster William G. Maynard from in front of the American cigar factory on Pine Grove avenue Friday evening and abandoning the machine wrecked on the Hurley road. John McGraw, the third youth will be arrested as soon as he recovers from his injuries.

He has a broken arm, his foot is injured, and he is otherwise hurt. For some time past there has been a gang of young men operating in the central part of the city making a practice of stealing automobiles and taking a joy ride in them. Friday evening Mr. Maynard and his family attended the movie show at the Y. M. C. A., and after the show was out they found the car missing. It was reported to the police, and later it was found on the Hurley road by Sergeant Hanley and Officer Keuhn. The machine ran off the road about three-quarters of a mile outside the city limits, and in trying to get back on the road the driver hit a telephone pole. The damage to the car is estimated at fully $200.

According to the police young Delaney was driving the stolen car, and McGraw received his injuries when the car hit the telephone pole. All three will be charged with grand larceny in the second degree, and will likely be remanded to await the action of the grand jury if the evidence warrants it at the hearing which was adjourned until this afternoon.

HIT DR. JOHNSTON'S CAR.

Miss. Gail-Carr's Auto In Collision On Broadway.

About 4 o'clock Friday afternoon as Health Officer Frank A. Johnston was driving down Broadway, intending to turn into Duane street, a big Cadillac car driven by a woman, crashed into the rear of the physician's car. As a result Dr. Johnston's car is in the Streetway Garage, having a new rear-end, new wheels and new fenders put on it. Officer Hendon, who was on duty at the time, interviewed the driver, and she gave her name as Miss Gail-Carr. Miss. Gail-Carr, the famous opera singer, is spending the summer at the Julia Mayhew cottage at Highmount.

TRADE UNIONS RUN HUNGARY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 2.—It is officially announced from Budapest that the Bela Kun government has resigned, says a Copenhagen Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today.

Trade unions have succeeded in forming a socialist cabinet, headed by Julius Biedel. The announced intention of the new cabinet is the maintenance of order and continuance of communication with the allies.

CITY DEMOCRATS TO BE PITIED

That is the Leaders, for They are Still Unable to Complete State, and Let the Others in the Party Know Who Candidates Are.

If there is anything more dismal than trying to enjoy a fishing trip with only "275 bait" it is the fishing trip of the Democratic leaders in a vain hunt to dig up candidates enough to fill out the city slate, and submit it to the members of the Democratic party so that they will know before election who they are to vote for.

"No matter how willing a Democrat is to vote his party ticket he would like to know who he is going to vote for at least the day before the polls open on election day," remarked a prominent down town Democrat this morning.

Friday evening the leaders held another secret session, and although they did their best they were unable to induce enough patriots to allow their names to be used on the party ticket this fall to complete the secret slate.

If there is by any chance a loyal Democrat in good standing who will obey all orders if elected and is willing to allow his name to be used as a candidate for alderman or supervisor he should immediately get in touch with City Chairman Frank P. Quigley or Postmaster W. C. DeWitt. There are a number of good vacancies on the ticket yet to be filled out.

CIRCUS CROWD HERE DOLLAR DAY

Practically 100 per cent of the merchants of Kingston will be lined up to participate in Dollar Day on Wednesday, August 6. The committee in charge of the event worked diligently all this week signing up merchants, and they are well pleased with the hearty response which they received. Everywhere, in all parts of the city the business men were anxious to be "in the swim," not only because of the increased sales it will mean to them on this day, but because they realize it is an excellent opportunity of presenting their merchandise and goods together with their good values to the people of Kingston and surrounding towns and counties.

Dollar Day is not to be strictly a Kingston affair. The event is being extensively advertised not only throughout Ulster county, but in four or five surrounding counties. Auto busses running in and from Kingston are placarded with posters calling attention to the event that means a saving on the household pocket-book. A circus crowd, twice over, will be in Kingston. In the course of a few days advertisements of the local stores will begin to appear in the local papers. Here will be set forth the rare bargains that will be offered. Then will the real purchasing power of the dollar come into its own again. The dollar has been working hard the past four years. Its burdens have become heavier and heavier until at the present time, it can hardly do the work of a fifty cent piece. But Dollar Day, oh Dollar Day, it's going to reel up a bit and do just what a dollar is supposed to do—but one hundred cents worth and a little more.

Dollar Day will be strictly a one-day event. How could it be else, for first class merchandise will be offered at a sacrifice. No, this is not a flim-flam, skin game to work off old stock on the public, or give the public a chance to buy a 50 cent article for a dollar. Nothing like that. Honest to goodness, simple pure bargains will be offered. The merchants want the people to know just what fine goods and excellent values they have. They want to show the people that it pays to "shop at home," patronize Kingston stores. That is another thought in connection with Dollar Day. The money that is spent in Kingston goes to help Kingston business, the faster all Kingston grows. Stores cannot be expected to carry big stocks of wide variety if they cannot depend upon the people to buy them. Thus Dollar Day—a show the people of Kingston that Kingston stores are up to date on a par if not above those of any other city.

Red and white cards in show windows and stores indicate the stores that are in the live-wire crowd for Dollar Day. They are asking you to be on hand, August 6. Stores will be open during the regular business hours, not at night.

CHICAGO CAR MEN RESUME WORK

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—The clang of the motorhorn's signal song and the jingle of the conductor's cash fares register is being heard in Chicago's streets today for the first time since early last Tuesday morning. Fifteen thousand elevated and surface street railway employees who went on strike four days ago are back at work and street cars are running on regular schedule.

The end of the strike came after an all-day referendum election in which the men voted by majority of 336 votes to accept the wage compromise offer of the traction companies. There were 12,444 votes cast of which 6,430 were in favor of the proposition and 5,745 against. Elevated employees carried the election, a plurality of surface line employees voting against the proposal. It immediately after the result of the vote was announced, W. D. Mahon, international president of the car men's union, officially declared the strike off and instructed the men to return to work. Within five hours regular surface and elevated car service had been resumed.

Under the terms of settlement which the men accepted, employees of the surface lines will receive wage increases from 47 to 65 cents an hour while elevated employees are given an advance from 50 to 67 cents an hour. The eight hour day with time and a half for overtime, also is granted the men.

NO ROLLS FOUND, MYSTERY STILL

Health Board Officials Unable to Locate Any of Rolls From Baker Goldman, Which Were Thought to Have Caused Sickness Downtown.

The mysterious illness that attacked a number of people downtown on Thursday, is still a mystery although the matter was investigated by the health board officials, who had received a complaint from a customer of Baker Goldman on Hasbrouck avenue. The one who complained stated he believed the illness of himself and family as well as that of others taken ill, was due to eating rolls obtained from Mr. Goldman. Plumbing Inspector Stork spent Friday investigating. They were unable to locate the trouble as no rolls were left of the batch which were alleged to have caused the illness. They state that they were informed that Mr. Goldman had visited his customers and gathered up what rolls were left. At Goldman's store none of the rolls were left.

It was the intention of the health officials to secure some of the rolls and have them tested at the laboratory to see if there was anything in the rolls that would have caused the mysterious stomach aches that attacked so many people. As it was impossible to do so the real reason for the mysterious illness that attacked so many is still a mystery.

But He Found Her With Another Man in Andes, and Took Her Home—Other Man Goes To Union Grove.

A little excitement occurred at the boarding house of Reed DuMont on lower Main street, Andes, Tuesday evening, when a man from Kingston arrived and claimed a lady boarder as his wife and mother of two or three children. On July 19, a man by the name of William Jamieson and a woman that was introduced to him, DuMont as his wife, secured employment in the Andes Creamery Co. plant. They claimed to have been married April 15 last, that her name was Margarette. No one had reason to question the above statement until the man came Tuesday night accompanied by a few friends and took her with him. Mrs. DuMont received payment for board from Jamieson after which he left telling her that he was going to an address at Union Grove, Catskill Mountain News.

Can't Hook Freight Ride.

There are a number of Kingston men employed in the Neeshburg shipyards, and some of them in order to get home a little earlier in the evening have been coming up on the freight train instead of waiting for the regular passenger train. Five young men were arrested by Detective Goodwill of the West Shore, and arraigned before Judge Schirick this morning. As it was their first offense they were discharged with a warning.

Food's Annual Trip With Harrowgate.

Henry Ford, John Burroughs and Thomas A. Edison are planning their annual automobile tour to begin at noon at the trial of the Ford Blue Bird is finished. The route is not known, but may take in the Catskills.

RECREATION FOR FACTORY WOMEN

And Addition of High School Lot and Others to Playground System Advocated—A Tribute to Mayor and Those Conducting City's Playgrounds.

(Contributed.)

The recent playground exhibition of Forsyth Park shows the rapid progress which the playground activities have made under the authority of the board of public works and the able direction of Physical Director A. W. Huley.

This development has been a source of great satisfaction to those interested in this movement and a fountain of joy, pleasure and health to thousands of children, as well as grown ups.

This is the third summer of playground operations, and apparently they have come to stay for I doubt if the citizens of Kingston, particularly the mothers will ever be willing to abandon this good work. It means so much to the children on these hot summer days, and so much to mothers in having their children well cared for and gathering health away from home.

Baseball Should be Fostered.

At McVey's Field the average daily attendance of children has been five hundred, and during baseball periods sometimes over a thousand. In Forsyth Park the attendance is a little less. Baseball is tremendously popular and the playground director is looking for more fields to conquer, as both McVey's Field and Forsyth Park have about reached the limit of their baseball capacity.

This great American game, the king of games, which, wherever introduced even among uncivilized races, has been a conqueror, should certainly not be allowed to suffer for want of space in the city of Kingston where there is, as yet, so much unoccupied land. Out of the one playground supervisors employed by the city this summer, seven (three male and four female) are graduates of the Savage School of Physical Culture in the city of New York, and one of the best schools of its kind in the country.

The children of our city are, therefore, getting the best playground supervision which can be found anywhere. Forsyth Park belongs to the city, a generous and noble gift from the members of the Forsyth family and so far as known the only one of its kind the city has ever received.

Chance to Donate McVey's.

With its deep shady pine grove and facilities for tennis, baseball, basketball and a natural amphitheater for pagan and folk dancing, it makes an ideal recreation park. The city is not so well off at McVey's Field. This field belongs to private parties and the city is making use of it as a playground at a nominal rent with the hope of some day being able to acquire possession of it. Here certainly is a chance for some patriotic and civic minded citizens, to follow the example of the Forsyth family and confer a blessing upon the children and to acquire civic immortality for himself.

The High School Lot.

For the central portion of the city the development of the lot ground back of the high school is most desirably to be desired. This lot is owned by the city and only requires development at an estimate by the city engineer of five thousand dollars. It would answer the double purpose of providing a recreation ground for high school scholars during the school period and could be used by the city as a general and central recreation center during the summer months. There seems to be some difference of opinion between the board of education and the board of public works as to which body should bear the expense of this work, but as the board of public works is already doing so much for the city at Forsyth Park, McVey's Field and Kingston Point, it seems hardly fair to saddle it with this new enterprise, particularly as the benefit is more for the high school scholars than anybody else.

A Lot in Factory Section.

Another lot in a most desirable situation is at the corner of Ten Broeck avenue and Cornell street. This is a lot of about one and a half acres, long, I believe, to the Cornell estate and would provide recreation facilities to the school children of district number six and to the workmen of six or more surrounding manufacturing establishments. It is, in fact a vacant space in a growing manufacturing area, which, if not rescued now, may be lost forever.

Business men progressive enough to realize the importance to employees of recreation and relaxation during noon and twilight hours will readily see the value to the city of such a worthy play center. Before it is too late this lot should certainly be acquired in some way by the city. There are, of course, other locations where play centers are much needed, but can only be reached in time. For instance, the side hill overlooking Abel street and ship yard district and down toward Rivard street is a perfect watershed of children who have at present no place for play except the street. This is another area where private enterprise could assist the municipality in solving this important playground problem and on having the happy days when the children of this section can receive what is due them.

Nothing Done For Working Girls.

As yet, in this playground problem nothing has been done for the benefit of the working girls in our factories who number perhaps over one thousand. It would seem that their recreation facilities were entitled to some consideration as those of the men.

COUNTY PEOPLE TO HEAR GREENE

A pleasant feature of the chamber of commerce dinner Tuesday evening, which will be addressed by Commissioner of Highways Frederick S. Greene, will be the attendance of men and women from the various towns in Ulster county. Six reservations from Saugerties were received at the chamber of commerce office this morning and other requests for reservations are coming in.

The dinner will be served Tuesday evening at 6:30 at the Y. M. C. A. building. Mrs. Hawley, the new caterer at the Y. M. C. A., is planning one of the good dinners which she so well knows how to serve.

Dinner will cost $5 cents. It is very desirable that reservations be made by phone, letter or in person, at the chamber of commerce rooms at once.

There will be the usual good fellowship and singing led by Harry P. Dodge. Since this is the first chamber of commerce dinner since the campaign, old and new members will have an excellent opportunity to get better acquainted. Women members of the chamber and women of the families of chamber of commerce members are especially invited.

WAGE DEMANDS SHAKE NATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 2.—The entire industrial structure of the United States was threatened with complete disruption today. Wage workers, unable longer to make both ends meet, were demanding wage increases ranging in some cases as high as 100 per cent. Business men, familiar with conditions, insisted that the granting of these increases must inevitably add to the constantly soaring high cost of living. The workers declared that they "might as well starve entirely as to try to live on what they now are receiving," and threatened nationwide strikes.

Immediate relief from the high cost of living could be procured if the large packing concerns would release foods which they have in storage. Miss Jessie R. Haver, legislative agent of the National Consumer's League, declared in a statement today.

President Wilson has only to speak the word and action against the packers on the basis of the fight made by the federal trade commission would accomplish the results that thousands of men and women throughout the country are demanding," Miss Haver said.

Fall From Boat.

Miss Blanche Morehouse of 129 St. James street had a narrow escape from drowning at Kingston Point Park, Friday evening. She had been out rowing with some friends and was about to step out of the boat onto the dock, when she made a misstep, lost her balance and fell into the water. The water, at this point is about 15 feet deep, and if it had not been for the quick action of Walter Johnson, who stood nearby, she would have drowned. However, Mr. Johnson grabbed her hand as she fell and without much effort pulled her out of the water, wet, but otherwise no worse after her unusual experience.

thousand. It would seem that their recreation facilities were entitled to some consideration as those of the men.

A supervised municipal dance hall or rest house, with a swimming pool, tennis courts and cafeteria, perhaps be most desirable. Such a building could be used in winter as well as in summer and no doubt the numerous organizations of women in the city would be willing to assist in its maintenance and management.

Certainly to the city and the employer the idle hours of these working women is a matter worthy of consideration as much as those of the men. Kingston is a quiet, orderly, well-governed city, and very patriotic. During the late war it met every duty and every obligation both to state and the nation with enthusiasm and efficiency and when it is once moved it can handle its own internal problems in the same way. It is largely owing to our truly patriotic and progressive mayor, that the playground movement has advanced to its present proportions, and those who are acquainted with the circumstances are grateful to him for his sympathetic co-operation. But as a matter of fact the playground movement has a larger horizon than that of a municipality.

Makes For Useful Citizens.

In its final analysis it has relationship both with the state and the nation. It is, indeed, one of the most important factors in determining whether a young man, when he reaches his voting

SERGEANT REIS GETS A SURPRISE

Guest of Honor at Reunion of Reis and Kelsch Families Friday Evening at St. Peter's Hall.

Sergeant John W. Reis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reis of Adams street, and recently returned from overseas, was the guest of honor at a reunion of the Reis and Kelsch families held Friday evening in St. Peter's Hall on Adams street. The reunion had been arranged as a surprise to the sergeant, and the returned soldiers from St. Peter's Church, who were also invited to attend.

With the members of the Reis and Kelsch families, the returned soldiers and guests, the gathering numbered about two hundred and fifty, including several from out of town. The reunion was a complete but pleasant surprise to Sergeant Reis.

During the evening the Rev. John P. Neumann, pastor of St. Peter's Church, gave a pleasing and forceful address appropriate to the occasion, and Lieut. Dixon, Lieut. Bence and Private Radel also spoke briefly.

At the close of the addresses refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

GHEEN WAS OVERSEAS.

Forestry Lecturer Well Known Here Was Captain of Artillery.

"Take the returning soldier back," is the policy of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse, shown with the announcement of the engaging of five returning soldiers for positions in the faculty of the college. All are men who were formerly with the college. Among them is Russell T. Gheen, formerly with the extension department, later with the Southern Pine Association, Captain in Field Artillery, returning to the extension department for special work in New York state, particularly for lecture work. Capt. Gheen commanded Battery E, 128th Field Artillery, one of the National guard regiments which did great work backing up the advances of doughboys on the French front. Many persons in Ulster county will recall Mr. Gheen's illustrated lectures on forestry, delivered in Kingston and various other places a few years ago.

On Riches.
I cannot call riches better than the baggage of virtue. For as the baggage is to the army, so is riches to virtue. It cannot be spared nor left behind, but it hinders the march; yea, and the care of it sometimes loseth or disturbeth the victory. Of great riches there is no real use, except it be in the distribution; the rest is but conceit.—Bacon.

of JOSEPH WILD & Co., Fifth Avenue, New York, who have retired from the retail business.

THE stock consists of Antiques, Semi-antiques and Modern Rugs in Persian, Turkish, Indian and Chinese weaves, comprising the choicest designs and colorings.

OF special value is a rare collection of antique Chinese rugs, in small and room sizes, ranging in price from $15.00 to $2000.00.

THOSE who are acquainted with the influence which Wild & Co. have exerted in the importation of Oriental Rugs—how they successfully pioneered this industry through every stage of development—will appreciate the advantages that are now being offered.

With Oriental Rugs growing scarcer and prices advancing, we believe the values offered to be very unusual.

Both the aesthetic and commercial values are very well understood by our salespeople and you will find them ready to assist you, should you desire, in making your selections.

Whence "Dutch."

The name Dutch is derived from Dietsch, meaning the vernacular, as distinguished from Latin. It is the same word as the German Deutsch. Dutch belongs to the Frankish division of the Low German, and is closely related to the Flemish, with which it is now practically identical in its written form. The Dutch language is one of the Germanic group of dialects, and is practically the same in its structure

CONSTITUTION TRADUCED.

Friends of the league of nations have the audacity to compare the fight that is being made upon it to the attacks made upon the American Constitution when it was submitted to the States for ratification. They contend that much the same sort of a campaign against that time-honored instrument was waged as is now being conducted in opposition to the league covenant. Then as now, according to their arguments, American liberties were held to be in imminent jeopardy, and the States warned to be exceedingly wary of giving their consent to an undertaking that carried such a dangerous menace to their independence. Senator Beckham of Kentucky goes to the extent of quoting from the utterances of Patrick Henry in opposition to the ratification of the Constitution in the Virginia Assembly. Upon that occasion the famous patriot spoke as follows:

"This proposal of altering our Federal Government is of a most alarming nature. Make the best of this new Government—say it is composed of anything but inspiration—you ought to be extremely cautious, watchful, jealous of your liberty; for instead of securing your rights you may lose them forever. If a wrong step be now made, the Republic may be lost forever."

But advocates of the league lose sight of the fact that there is this fundamental difference between our Constitution and the covenant that is before us: The right to amend the Constitution remains with the American people exclusively. The right to amend the covenant of the league of nations rests in the unanimous action of the nine nations that compose the council, and, in addition, a majority of the nations composing the assembly. Such restrictions upon amendments make it practically impossible ever to secure any change whatever in the covenant—entirely so far as any independent desire of the United States for alteration is concerned.

The States that ratified our Constitution under protest knew that they held within themselves the right of amendment. That right was exercised at the very first session of the First Congress, when the first ten amendments to the Constitution were proposed to the States for ratification. Taken together they constitute the Bill of Rights, and specifically reserve to the people certain natural liberties that must inevitably belong to citizens of a free republic if it is to endure. Within two years those amendments had been adopted by the state legislatures and had become a part of the organic law. Since that time eight other changes and additions have been made to the Constitution, and a ninth, the woman suffrage amendment, is now in process of ratification by the States.

In contrast to that simple and American method, observe the means provided for amending the league covenant. The nine individuals who compose the council have no power to amend. The nations themselves, which they represent must unanimously concur before a proposed amendment becomes effective. But that is not all. A majority of the nations composing the assembly must also give their assent. Inasmuch as there will be about forty-five nations to start with, a number that will probably be increased in the near future, it can be seen at once how hopeless it will be to effect any change whatever in the league covenant. Comparison between the American Constitution and the foreign league of nations, always odious enough, is particularly repugnant when the attempt is made to show that the one is subject to as great criticism as the other.

AS GEORGIA WOMEN WISHED.

Noting that the woman suffrage amendment was overwhelmingly defeated in the Georgia legislature, the Philadelphia Evening Telegram remarks: "Apparently the traditions of Georgia were offended by something more than the proposition that Congress should decide as to who should or should not vote. Judging from the reported debate which has been progressing for some time, the opinion of Elizabeth Watson, who went to the State capital wearing a train of white and wearing a hat of white and who followed up by ending Senator Harris—the President's handpicked successor—to the rebellious Hardwick—to enforce his recommendations, caused quite as much resentment as the amendment itself."

This omits to mention perhaps the most important factor. The Southern States are jealous of their home-rule rights under the Constitution, including the right to extend or limit the franchise as they see fit without interference from the outside, but in this instance the Georgia legislature no doubt responded to what is believed to be the sentiment of the majority of the women of the State. In these hurrying times we are apt to forget that the call for the ballot is by no means universal among women and that in the South at least it unquestionably comes from a minority.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Why do they call Broadway 'The Great White Way'?" asked the visitor. "Because," answered the New Yorker, "the thoroughfare is dedicated to ice cream soda and buttermilk."—Washington Star.

"Blm blm—x ! ! ! ? ? ? ?" spluttered the golfer in the bunker. "I thought you said golf was a gentleman's game," said his wife quietly.—Detroit Free Press.

"I shouldn't think a 22-calibre pistol would sell well in Yuba City." "I bought 'em for watch charms," explained the town jeweller.—Judge.

"Discharge that press agent immediately!" thundered the theatrical manager. "But," protested the financial backer, "he has gotten some wonderful publicity." "That's the point. If the actors read all he has written they will become so impressed with themselves that there will be no hope of meeting salary demands."—Washington Star.

"My wife started out early this morning to horiont ruble." "What happened?" "By noon the loan was over."—Baltimore American.

Edith (theatricaly inclined) "What is your favorite play, Mr. Jiles?" "Charley (baseball enthusiast)." "If I have any, I like to see a player steal second base on the hook slide."—Judge.

"I must cancel my engagement," declared Yerrick Hamum. "What for?" "My doctor says I need a change of scenery." "That will be all right. We put on a new play next week."—Kansas City Journal.

"Did you ever use money in an election?" "No," said Senator Sorghum. "I have been accused of it, but I have always found that when you began to hint at money anybody with a vote to sell got his mind entirely off the election and wanted to turn it into an auction."—Washington Star.

NO N. Y. STOCK MARKET TODAY

Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 2.—The stock exchange was closed today to allow brokerage clerks to catch up in their work.
The curb market was also closed for the same purpose.

Llama: Still a Burden Bearer.
Llamas and llamas were the only animals known to have been used for conveying burdens by the Indians prior to the advent of white men in the western hemisphere. The use of the dog was restricted almost entirely to the caribou and bison areas with a sledge in the most northern part and toboggan in the forests, or where the snow would not bear the weight of runners. The travails of the bison area was a primitive vehicle consisting of two trailing poles with a platform or net across them for carrying the load. From Ecuador north to the Colorado river there is no evidence of anything but human portage, but in Peru the llama was used. It has little more carrying capacity than a large dog, but is particularly well adapted for mountain travel and even today has not wholly been replaced by the mule or horse.

Tadpoles Before Frogs' Eggs.
"Every scout knows that frog tadpoles are developed from frogs' eggs, and that the eggs are laid in the early spring," writes Edward F. Higelow in "Boys' Life." "Now, here is a puzzle. I know scouts that went hunting for fairy shrimps in March and found a number of well-grown tadpoles. They asked: 'May tadpoles be found the whole year round, and, if so, when do they become frogs?' It would be easy to answer that question, and still easier for the scout to forget the answer, but it would be cruel on the part of the scout naturalist to deprive scouts of the privilege of finding out for themselves. Here is the puzzle that I toss to you: 'How does it happen that tadpoles appear every spring before frogs' eggs are laid?'"

Margaret likes Cecil's puppies and always refers to them as her father does, as a "litter of puppies." A day or two ago another playmate called her in to see two baby sisters. Margaret was thoughtful for a moment at the dinner table that day, and then, turning reproachfully to her mother, said: "We never have a litter of anything at our house."

CALIFORNIA FARMERS CONDUCT EXTENSION CONFERENCE IN AUTOS

Remarkable photo showing over 2,500 automobiles that brought people to the big picnic held at the United States experimental farm at Davis, Cal. This big farm has a school for scientific agriculture and stock raising.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
An extension conference traveling in automobiles is an idea from the West. At the close of the annual meeting of the California experiment station at Davis and the agricultural college at Berkeley, the agents from 54 counties and the assistant agents, the county agent leader and his assistants were joined by 91 farmer delegates representing the county farm bureaus of the state. The entire party, comprising 151 people, spent seven days traveling by automobile from Berkeley to Riverside. The delegation passed through 11 counties, 9 of which have farm bureaus and 8 of which have resident county agents. In counties having agents, the agents occupied the leading car and conducted the party to interesting demonstration work. Short stops were made at which the county agent or the farmer on whose ranch the demonstration was being conducted, explained the method and results.

Some Things Seen.
Noteworthy things seen were poultry and bee demonstration work at Santa Cruz, stock judging at Salinas and Lankershim, the Jim Jeffries and "Lucky" Baldwin ranches in Los Angeles county, fire-fighting apparatus at Santa Paula, seed-bed preparation at the Camarillo ranch, pruning of apricot trees, citrus pruning, the artemisia well and drainage project in Orange county, spraying demonstration in walnut orchard, citrus bud selection, and poultry culling.

Meetings were held each night at the farm bureau center in the county the party was visiting. The resident county agent explained in detail the work under way in the county and farm bureau members discussed subjects in which they were interested. The delegates considered the advisability of a state farm bureau federation and recommended to the county farm bureaus that such an organization be formed at a later date.

The party was entertained by the local farm bureau at dinner and supper at almost every county passed through, while in southern California the visitors were repeatedly met at county lines by committees of women, and boxes of oranges were literally poured into the automobiles. The trip closed, after covering 937 miles, with a banquet at the mission Inn at Riverside. "Sights" were neglected in order to attend the work of the conference.

Benefits From Trip.
The farmers participating were unanimous in approval of the plan. The automobile cost was met by the college of agriculture and the farmer delegates paid their own subsistence expenses or it was met by their farm bureaus. Aside from the practical value of the demonstrations and farm practices observed the whole tone of county agent work in the state was improved. Farm bureau officials returned home with an enlarged outlook, the county agents saw demonstrations and organizations work under a variety of conditions and the people of the counties visited were given an enlarged vision of the state and national extent of the work.

While such an extended trip is possible only where roads are highly improved, the idea seems to be an excellent one, department of agriculture officials believe, and similar or less ambitious trips doubtless could be planned in a number of the states with real value to the extension organization and work.

IRON OUT FENDER DENTS

The greatest care must be taken in straightening out dents in the fenders, if the parts are not to assume a battered appearance. The only satisfactory method is to remove the fender and get it on the bench. Beneath it should be placed a block of wood cut to fit snugly the curve of the fender. Then the dents can be pounded out with comparatively little injury to the finish and general appearance of the parts. Incidentally it is a good plan to use a leather mallet for this work or to cover the head of an ordinary hammer with a number of thicknesses of cloth.

TO FIND CARBURETOR LEAKS

Excellent Plan Is to Immerse Suspected Part in Hot Water and Watch for Bubbles.

An excellent way to locate suspected leaks in the carburetor float is to immerse the part in hot water. In this way any gasoline in the interior will be vaporized and will force its way out of the hole, which may be located by watching for the bubbles to rise. The float should, of course, be removed from the water the instant the bubbles appear.

HOME GARAGE FLOOR SPACE

Absolute Minimum Will Be Found to Be Nothing Less Than Twelve by Twenty Feet.

In planning the home garage, remember that for a single car the minimum floor space will be 12 by 20 feet if you purpose doing any work on the vehicle in its shelter. Also these dimensions do not allow room for either a work bench or for storage space, they are simply the irreducible minimum.

BE CERTAIN VENT IS OPEN

A Little Attention to This Important Matter Will Frequently Save the Driver Annoyance.

Remember that gravity and vacuum feed gasoline systems have to have a vent in the tank which is in or around the filler cap. Look for this occasionally and run a wire through it to make sure that it is open. If it is not, you will have engine troubles that may puzzle you and take a long time to trace.

USE FOR SANDPAPER BLOCK

Motorist Will Find It Handy for Cleaning Up Punctures in the Inner Tubes.

Motorists who do their own tire repairing will find it well worth while to tack a piece of sandpaper to a cylindrical block of wood three inches in diameter and a foot long. For cleaning up punctures in inner tubes it is often handy to have small flat or rounded sticks of wood wrapped with sandpaper.

Habit of Decision.

Most people who have succeeded in any direction of activity can trace the measure of their success to the habit of deciding things for themselves. One of the greatest temptations we have is to confide in others. By yielding to it we not only become a nuisance to our friends but keep on lowering our own powers of resistance.

UZOLD TIRE

WILL IT BE THE NEXT WONDER TIRE STOCK?

For the past few months there has been a roaring market in stocks in New York. Some of the most spectacular advances in securities that the American markets have ever known have been recorded on the New York Stock Exchange and on the Curb. In no group of stocks have the advances been more sensational than in the tire shares. Kelly-Springfield, selling only a few months ago around the $50 mark, has scored one of the greatest of all advances on the Stock Exchange. Keystone Tire & Rubber, selling a few months ago on the Curb around the $15 mark, has since advanced more than $100 per share on the Stock Exchange. That stock was the bell-wether of a mighty boom on the Curb. Savold Tire, introduced to the Curb last April at $24 per share, has scored an advance of more than $40 per share. Fisk Rubber Tire in less than a week scored an advance of more than $20 per share.

WHY ARE THESE STOCKS SOARING?

Have you been following the reports of the house of A. J. Peyton & Company, which have been telling the story and have been electrifying the securities markets of New York? Did you send for the reports on Keystone Tire & Rubber in the early stages of the market in that stock; for the reports on Savold Tire in the early stages of the trading in that issue? Did you send for the reports on Colonial Tire & Rubber, introduced to the Curb only a few weeks ago at $14 per share, which almost immediately developed as one of the big sensations of the year, having since sold at three times the opening figure?

Do you want the reports on Uzold Tire, which was selling a few weeks ago at $6.50 per share and has now begun to advance in spectacular manner?

WILL IT BE THE NEXT WONDER TIRE STOCK?

The reports of the house of A. J. Peyton & Company are yours for the asking. Send for them, naming the stocks in which you are interested. If you are interested in Uzold Tire send for the reports on that stock now.

Key of Happiness.

It is very difficult to realize it sometimes, and it is very hard on our pride to admit it when we do realize it, but it is a fact nevertheless, and a fact that we should let get hold of us, and stay with us—that the joy and happiness and satisfaction of our lives depend very much more upon ourselves and the kind of people we are than upon the kind of things that happen to us. It is the kind of will we carry round with us, and the attitude of our mind and the temper of our spirit and decide whether our lives shall be happy and hopeful, and get the things that come to us. Given the right kind of will, the same attitude and the wholesome temper of soul, we shall be able to adjust ourselves to life with some comfort and satisfaction, no matter what its accidents and incidents, until they become quite satisfying. We carry the key of our own happiness ourselves, and no one can give it to us or take it away.

Learn to Swim.

Swim every day and you will not develop large, ugly muscles, but beautiful, smooth-working ones under a clean skin, a body that moves with grace, bright eyes and a smile that will carry you anywhere. One of the greatest medical experts in the country has claimed swimming as the greatest of exercises, because it uses the whole muscular system, with moderate demand on nerve control.

Velocity of Stars.

From the spectroscopic measurements made at Mt. Wilson observatory stars (G. C. the speed with which they are approaching or receding from our solar system), it appears that the star A. G. Delta has a radial velocity of 320 kilometers a second, the highest constant velocity so far observed for any star. Next to this comes Leland, with a velocity of 325 kilometers a second, in the opposite direction.

DETAILS OF NEW CITY FIRE TRUCK

At a meeting of the board of fire commissioners a short time ago it was decided to buy a new motor hook and ladder truck to take the place of the present horse-drawn truck, used at the Central Fire Station. A number of bids were received from motor fire apparatus manufacturing companies and among them the Seagrave Co.'s bid, which was accepted. The bid was for $9,827, including expenses of shipment to this place.

This apparatus is the latest and most approved design, and constructed with due consideration to symmetrical proportions, distribution of the load, the nature of the load to be sustained and the general character of the service to which the apparatus will be subjected when placed in commission.

With a view of obtaining these results the minor details of construction, such as the sizes, dimensions and weights of the various structural parts, are to be left to the discretion of the manufacturer.

The engine is a six-cylinder, 73.9 horse power, water-cooled motor and has a 120 horse power brake.

The equipment to be placed on truck by dealer is:

Suitable tool and charge-box combined is to be placed at forward end of running board, extending full width of same, for the reception of sundry tools, extinguisher charges, etc.

One suitable wire basket for the reception of various appliances placed under frame, being as large as space will permit.

The ladder arches are to be made of round edge steel, with rubber covered rollers running on steel bearings, with adjustable set collars.

The ladders provided:

One 55 ft. double rapid house-extension ladder, with stay poles having universal joints of improved pattern, and snipe locks.

Two 33 ft. ladders to be the same as the above named.

One 28 ft. Seagrave trussed wall ladder.

One 24 ft. Seagrave trussed wall ladder.

One 20 ft. Seagrave trussed wall ladder.

One 16 ft. Seagrave trussed roof ladder with folding hooks.

One 12 ft. Seagrave trussed roof ladder with folding hooks.

ladder with folding hooks.

One 14 ft. Seagrave trussed inside extension ladder.

All ladders are made of well seasoned straight grain fir, free from all visible defects; straight grain white oak, ash or hickory rungs, with cast iron rods at every fourth rung, and of regulation widths. All the ladders will be furnished with a natural finish.

Truck equipment:

One. Auger plaster hook.

One steel jimmy.

Two cushions, anch or strapped.

Six assorted pickhead fire axes.

Six sets latest design scabbards and handle holders.

Six brass fire departments lanterns.

Six brass lantern holders, spring pattern.

One steel crowbar in regular holders.

Two tool and charge boxes.

One wall pick and regular holder.

One Detroit door opener in regular holder.

One wire cutter.

One tin roof cutter.

Two 3 gallon fire department extinguishers with carrying straps, in regular holders.

Four pike poles, 8 ft., 12 ft., 14 ft., and 16 ft.

One Browder life net, 9 ft. half fold.

Two 10x14 ft. canvas covers, water proof.

The truck will be painted the regulation fire department red, body a little darker shade. Suitable and beautiful decorations will be in fine colors and gold leaf. Pure white lead, linseed oil and the best coach colors are used. All bright and polished parts will be in nickel finish.

Two 25 gallon chemical tanks furnished by the city, are to be mounted by the dealer, free of charge.

The company also gives the following guarantee:

We endeavor to furnish the best of everything that can be procured, and will at any time within one year, replace, free of charge, at our factory any defective workmanship or materials for which we are responsible.

We do not, however, guarantee against accidents nor carelessness.

It is the intention of these specifications to furnish a complete piece of apparatus, built of the best materials, finished in handsome style according to these specifications, and minor details omitted by an oversight will not plead an excuse for the omission.

The apparatus and equipment is to be delivered to a transportation company at Columbus, Ohio, within about December 1, 1919 or sooner.

After the receipt and acceptance of the contract at the company's office at Columbus, Ohio, the truck shall be delivered on the floor of the engine house.

A competent instructor is to be sent to teach the firemen how to handle the apparatus in an expert manner.

Upon delivery and acceptance of the truck, $2,456.75 is to be paid, $2,456.75 is payable again on the first of April of the years 1920, 1921 and 1922.

The contract was signed by Fire Commissioners Charles Lahl, Jr., William S. Eltinge and Louis Kolts.

This apparatus will save the city fire department a great deal of money as it will not have to be fed gasoline except when in actual operation, while a horse has to be fed three times a day. With the price of feed as it is, the expenses of keeping horses is unusually great.

Kingston will have a fire department to be proud of and as good as can be found along the Hudson river valley.

When I was assisting the county clerk in the office last summer a couple came in for a marriage license. As they knew no one in town they asked where they could find a minister. The clerk said he would call one and the ceremony could be performed in the inner office. The minister arrived and the ceremony started. When it came time for the bridegroom to put the ring on her finger he got it on the wrong one. She corrected him with: "Oh, you little pickle," and the ceremony proceeded.—Exchange.

When I was assisting the county clerk in the office last summer a couple came in for a marriage license. As they knew no one in town they asked where they could find a minister. The clerk said he would call one and the ceremony could be performed in the inner office. The minister arrived and the ceremony started. When it came time for the bridegroom to put the ring on her finger he got it on the wrong one. She corrected him with: "Oh, you little pickle," and the ceremony proceeded.—Exchange.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

FATHER ROOSTER'S COMPLAINT.

"It most certainly annoys me, cock-a-doodle-do, it most certainly annoys me," said Father Rooster.

"What annoys you, Father Rooster?" asked one of the little chickens.

"It annoys me, my child, when I hear the people grumbling over the great rats in the road."

"What are rats, Father Rooster?" asked the children.

So Father Rooster took the chicken for a walk and showed him the great hollows in the road, or the rats as he called them. The chicken was not very old and didn't know very much about the world.

"And do these rats annoy you, Father Rooster?" asked the chicken.

"They do, my child, but not because they are rats."

"I am very much puzzled, Father Rooster," said the chicken. "I do wish you would explain."

Father Rooster cleared his throat, then he crowed, then he strutted about.

"I was getting myself ready to make a speech," he said. "Now I am all ready. Anyone else who may care to listen to my speech will be allowed to listen."

"It is free, and I invite everyone to hear it. Cock-a-doodle-do, it is to be a lecture."

"It's not to be a lesson is it?" asked another chicken, who had had all the wanted to have of schooling for some time to come.

"No, it is not to be a lesson," said Father Rooster.

"Then I will come," said the chicken.

"So will I," said another.

"And I will too," said a third.

"I will join you all," said a fourth.

"Will there be refreshments afterwards?" asked a fifth.

"It will probably be time for supper when he gets through," said a sixth.

"Still we haven't much else to do. Chickens and hens and roosters don't have many engagements."

"That's so," replied a seventh.

"Well, I'll attend," said Father Rooster. He didn't mind in the least if they had all sorts of funny reasons for coming, as long as they came. That satisfied him enough.

"Well, hens and roosters, chickens, Mr. Chatterbox and Ladies and Gentlemen," he began.

"There is no Mr. Chairman and there are no ladies and gentlemen here," said one of the chickens.

"Hush," said the others. "No matter what a lecturer says let him say it!"

"It gives me great pleasure to be asked to speak at this splendid meeting."

"We never asked him at all, he invited himself," said another.

"Hush," they all said again.

"I wish to tell you that I hope you will all join me in complaining against the rats in the road. There was a heavy rainstorm. Then the great motor trucks and automobiles came along, and it is true some trucks pulled by horses, but mostly by those atrocious automobiles."

"They made the rats, and while the people grumble about the awful country roads and the rats they do not grumble about that horrible invention, the automobile."

"Some of the rats were made by horse trucks," one of the others suggested.

"Those rats I do not complain about, but I complain about the automobiles which don't get the blame they should get for making such dreadful rats in the country roads."

"Let's complain against the automobiles," he ended.

"All right, we will," said the rest.

"But one little chick, brighter than the others, said:

"But oh Gracious, Mercy me, it's foolish to complain when it doesn't do any good!"

Mammoth Statue of Buddha.

The most remarkable image in Kamakura, Japan, is not in a temple. It is the well-known Dai-Butsu, or great Buddha, which sits alone in meditation with only the sky for a roof and casual visitors and a priest in attendance.

The grove which surrounds the Buddha seems dwarfed beside his giant proportions. The statue is said to measure 50 feet in height, the head alone being 9 feet. This giant Buddha is one of the relics of Kamakura's thirteenth century greatness. It has survived because it is made of bronze plates fashioned by the best metal workers in Japan. It is one of Japan's very few monuments that can aspire to rival in longevity the pyramids.

TRACTORS AT WORK IN ITALY

Modern Machinery Doing Its Part in Making the Plains of Apulia Productive.

Farm tractors, jolting over the plains of Apulia, in southern Italy, have awakened the inhabitants of that district as unceremoniously as the elephants of Pyrrhus awakened them 24 centuries ago. And the tractors signalize an invasion which is not likely to be any such temporary matter as was the visit of the king of Epirus and his army. These machines are making Apulia over from a frontier grazing region, devoted by unprogressive landholders to the casual raising of flocks, into what an Italian writer describes as a veritable Canadian wheat garden.

They are helping to solve the European food problem. But more than that, they are causing a social regeneration, or, rather, the government is doing so, by urging the landholders to recognize the modern co-operative order of things and to do their share in rehabilitating the world. The government, by this program, is clearly doing much the same thing that the ancient Roman republic, in the praetorship of Lucius Postumius, did, when it compelled the Apulian shepherds to desist from robbery and to pay homage to the law.

Some of the rats were made by horse trucks," one of the others suggested.

"Those rats I do not complain about, but I complain about the automobiles which don't get the blame they should get for making such dreadful rats in the country roads."

Those With Enterprise.
The enterprising person is the person who is always learning and then putting that learning to use, who is making the very best of opportunity, and creating all the opportunities which seem to offer themselves to him or her. In other words, what is enterprise but a busy mind and a busy person properly directed by a sane soul.

Truly a Big Mistake.

"A man dat's allus in trouble," said Uncle Eben, "is mighty liable to make de tremendous mistake of bein' proud of de fact."

How to Be Loved.

A wise man said, "A cheerful heart doth good like medicine." I have the cheerful heart our friends won't wish to go a mile around to keep from speaking to us, and we can get that welcome look off our face, and let the corners of our mouth turn up, and by that time, even if the cat fell into the cream crock and was drowned, we can say we are glad it wasn't the baby.

There is a silver lining somewhere and life is short at the best, and if, when I have folded my hands across my breast for the last time, I have made one child's heart happy, or one person can say, "She found the bright places in a world of darkness," I have not lived in vain.
